Recent Trips

Dell Medical School

Our high school students from Lanier and Akins High School had the opportunity to visit The Dell Medical School at The University of Texas at Austin, where students explored what it was like to be a medical student. As pictured on the left, students undertook real life health scenarios and concluded what was wrong with their given patient. To the farthest right, students explored where medical students practice with actors who pretend to be real-life patients. This initiative gives students the opportunity to explore diverse fields and envision themselves in these positions where they could one day be.

Rice University

Above, our Mendez & Paredes Middle School students had the opportunity to explore the Rice University Campus.

> To the right, our Akins and Lanier High School students had the opportunity to explore Our Lady of the Lake University (OLLU) and speak with the admissions on how to apply to OLLU, advice on getting scholarships, and how to stand out through their application by becoming involved in local organizations/clubs.
